A Little Kindness Can Make a Big Difference

Celebrating 10 Years of Kindness

Clement and Knox Haynsworth

Over the past decade, this annual report has highlighted the many lives that Clement's Kindness has touched, and through it all, Priscilla and Knox Haynsworth have been a constant source of support for these courageous families. The Haynsworths can truly empathize with these families as they know all too well how difficult it is to lose a child.

The Clement's Kindness Fund for the Children was established in 2002 to honor their son, Clement, who passed away at the age of 24. The Haynsworth family chose to honor Clement's memory by reaching out to children whose lives are the most fragile — those that are fighting the battle with cancer and other serious blood disorders. The name for the fund was inspired by a family member and math tutor who remarked that the she will always remember Clement for his remarkable kindness.

"Establishing and working with Clement's Kindness Fund for the Children has actually been a very healing experience for us," said Priscilla and Knox. "In a way, we are very fortunate that this charity was named after our son. It's a wonderful way to grieve in that we can help other families."

The fund was initially established in Columbia, South Carolina, and was part of Children's Chance after so many donations poured in to honor Clement. The original fund helped only cancer patients with their non-medical needs. Today, the fund serves children from Anderson to Spartanburg to Pickens and Pelzer and addresses the non-medical needs of patients and their families including travel expenses, out of pocket expenses, psychological counseling and discretionary funds for car repairs, mortgage payments and more.

"I think that Dr. Cary Stroud, Medical Director at the BI-LO Charities Children's Cancer Center, was relieved when we established Clement's Kindness in the Upstate because the children that come to him often have many needs beyond medical, and there simply are not enough agencies to help out," commented Priscilla.

"We really have to give a huge credit to Dr. Cary Stroud and his staff as they are so well known throughout the state. You can walk into the Children's Hospital and immediately feel the love and compassion in the air. The entire staff is so well respected, and that means a great deal," added Knox.

Over the past decade Clement's Kindness has helped more than 1,500 families through gas cards, rent payments, outings to Carowinds and Clemson, trips to Camp Courage and School Intervention Program visits, to name a few.

"The children enjoy going to Clemson to meet the football players and the trip to Carowinds is important because it helps the whole family just have a normal day. These outings are so critical because they allow the siblings to participate. It's a family affair," said Priscilla.

In 2009, Clement's Kindness announced a special gift of $500,000 to the Children's Hospital of Greenville for the development of Camp Courage. This gift was used to establish a new location for Camp Courage, which is now part of the Pleasant Ridge Camp Conference and Retreat Center. This gift also ensures that patients are able to have a full week summer camp experience, as well as a variety of uses for parent support, respite retreats and staff training.

"When we first started Clement's Kindness, we envisioned helping with a couple of mortgages and gas cards. Now it has grown, and it just keeps growing. The fact that Camp Courage became a reality is truly amazing. Clement's Kindness has led the way in giving $500,000, and we hope other charities will follow suit," commented Knox.

Clement will always be remembered for his loyalty to friends, his kindness to children, his admiration and love for his brother and his interest in making his niece and nephew great baseball players. And after this past decade he now will be remembered for helping countless patients and their families who will never forget that a little kindness can make a difference.

"I envision that over the next ten years, Clement's Kindness will continue to grow and help these families. That is the ultimate goal," said Priscilla.

"Establishing and working with Clement's Kindness Fund for the Children has actually been a very healing experience for us. In a way, we are very fortunate that this charity was named after our son. It's a wonderful way to grieve in that we can help other families."

— Priscilla and Knox Haynsworth, parents of Clement Haynsworth

How Clement's Kindness Helps Today

Clement's Kindness is a partner of the BI-LO Charities Children's Cancer Center which aids families throughout the Upstate of South Carolina. The staff uses Clement's Kindness to provide:

- School Intervention Program (SIP) visits
- Showing Courage All Together (SCAT) teen and parent support groups
- Financial assistance
- Gas and Grocery Cards
- Camp Courage
- Annual Carowinds family outings
- Clemson and Furman family outings
- Special requests
- Sympathy floral arrangements and the book, Healing After Loss, upon a patient's death

This report shares examples of how a little kindness can make a big difference. From summer camp to funding for support groups to assistance with everyday expenses, Clement's Kindness touches countless lives in ways both big and small.

Clement's Kindness Advisory Board — A Decade of Service

An integral part to the success of Clement's Kindness is the advisory board and the members who have served the charity and helped raise funds. Many of the current board members have been involved since day one, and they remain active due to experiencing firsthand the impact that this organization makes on the families served.

"I have never had anyone turn us down to serving on the board. They have been critical to our success. The board has helped us make huge leaps, especially in the beginning, and they continue to remain dedicated and focused on our mission. You can't separate the board from Clement's Kindness," said Knox Haynsworth.

"When a child is sick, the family is most vulnerable. Serving on the Clements Kindness Board allows us to positively impact the families during that time, assisting with basic needs and providing fun activities that help relieve the everyday stresses that they endure. As a board, we are committed to enhancing the quality of life for these families."

The DuPree Family — Defining Courage

Frank, Gay and Bern DuPree understand firsthand the feelings of devastation, fear, sadness and frustration that are experienced when a family member is diagnosed with cancer. Gay and Frank's oldest son, Frank M. DuPree, Jr., was diagnosed with cancer in 1981, at age three and a half. Bern, Frank's younger brother, was just one and a half at the time. While the DuPrees were blessed to live close to many family members and friends during Frank's battle with cancer, their struggles were still immense and their hearts were still broken. Frank lost his battle with cancer in 1988, just before his 10th birthday.

Years later, through the heartache and pain, the DuPree family continues to honor Frank's life as they help other families in the Upstate who are going through the same struggles that they endured.

Frank M. DuPree, Jr. at age 9.

Together, Frank, Gay and Bern serve as members of the Clement's Kindness Advisory Board.

"Our family first became involved with Clement's Kindness after receiving a phone call from Knox and Priscilla Haynsworth. We were honored to be asked to be part of the board and feel fortune to serve alongside some incredibly loving and caring people," said Gay.

The DuPree family's personal experience is invaluable to the Advisory Board. They understand how the compassion of a community can help these families during such a devastating time.

The DuPree Family – Mary Pickens DuPree (wife of Bern), Frank DuPree, Gay DuPree, Frank DuPree III, (son of Mary and Bern) and Bern DuPree

"The children are the strong ones. We can learn so many life lessons from them. Their fearless and positve outlook while dealing with their illness is so inspirational."

— Gay DuPree

"Being part of Clement's Kindness is hard, but most of all, it is rewarding. It is hard in that we know what these families are going through, and we hurt for them. At the same time, it is immensely rewarding to be part of something that we know makes a difference for children and families in such an immediate and positive way," said Gay.

The family gives a lot of credit to Frank, Jr. for teaching them how to be brave and courageous. And it is evident as their valiant acts of kindness radiate through the Upstate community.

"The children are the strong ones. We can learn so many life lessons from them. Their fearless and positive outlook while dealing with their illness is so inspirational," said Gay.

Courage

Courage is my brother. When I was about 6 my parents told me that my brother was going to die. My brother knew he was going to die, but he was always happy while he was sick. He traveled to Duke a lot for operations. He was always smiling and never acted scared. When he was about to die he told me that I could come in his room and play with his toys whenever I wanted. When my brother died I was seven and he was 9. All he wanted was for me and my parents to be happy. I think my brother had the most courage of anybody I've ever known. His body was very weak, but his heart was stronger than anything on this earth. To me my brother defines courage.

Christian Smith

Easley, South Carolina

"Christian is a true joy and inspiration: he has smiled through cancer every step of the way. It is because of Clement's Kindness that we were able to keep up with bills when we had to drop everything to take care of Christian and get the treatment he desperately needed. Clement's Kindness has been a tremendous blessing and a big help."

— Casey Smith
Christian's mother

Christian loves the funny rhymes of Dr. Seuss, the silliness of the Sponge Bob movie and the thrills of Super Mario Galaxy on his Wii. He was excited to enjoy a long summer and start fifth grade at Wren Elementary. With such a fun-loving nature, you would never guess Christian has already been through the fight of his life.

In March of 2010, Christian was diagnosed with Hodgkins Lymphoma, and his family was understandably shocked. They traveled back and forth from Easley to BI-LO Charities Children's Cancer Center for treatment and overnight stays due to fevers. After treatment, Christian went into remission for three months and his family was greatly relieved. However, it was short lived. Christian relapsed and had to travel to the Medical University of South Carolina in Charleston for a bone marrow transplant. The family stayed at the Ronald McDonald house for three months while Christian received his treatment.

Clement's Kindness has been able to assist this incredible family in their fight with gas cards, utility bills, rent payments and School Intervention Program school visits.

Aliyah Sanders

Union, South Carolina

With her purple shirt and jaunty hat, it's easy to picture Aliyah fitting right in at a princess tea party. The petite three-year old has a love for all things miniature including dollhouses and the movie Baby Geniuses. One day when her mother, Jasmine, was bathing Aliyah to get her ready for a party, she noticed that she had a bump protruding from her side. She was immediately alarmed and took Aliyah to the doctor. Within days, Aliyah was diagnosed with Wilms Tumor, a type of kidney cancer found in children.

For nine months, the family traveled to BI-LO Charities Children's Cancer Center for radiation and weekly overnight stays for chemotherapy treatments. Fortunately, Aliyah went into remission in April. Her mother would like nothing more than to take Aliyah and her siblings to Florida to see their extended family.

Clement's Kindness has been by the family's side throughout their journey and was able to assist the hard-working mother with rent and utility bill payments.

"I learned about how Clement's Kindness could help my family through Pam Broughton. Because Aliyah's treatment was so intense we had to move to Greenville temporarily, which has been really hard because I'm responsible for my family's income. I would really like to thank Clement's Kindness for all the support and for helping my family at the perfect time. I wish there was something more I could do to pay them back. Our family is very thankful for everything."

— Jasmine Collins

Frederick “Alex” Nunn

Pacolet, South Carolina

“I just want to say thank you to everyone involved, especially to all the donors who contribute to Clement’s Kindness and everyone at the hospital who works so tirelessly for these kids. The children really are such troopers and there are just so many things insurance doesn’t cover. You want to do everything you can for your child and Clement’s Kindness has really helped make that happen.”

— William Patrick Nunn
Alex’s father

Alex loves anything that’s a challenge, especially puzzles, so his visit to the Children’s Museum of the Upstate was a dream come true. The rising sixth grader’s favorite movie is Night at the Museum and his father mentioned that he is a daredevil who loves roller coasters.

It’s not uncommon for a growing boy like Alex to complain of leg cramps, but when he was seen at the Emergency Room, a MRI revealed that he had a mass in his brain. The next day Alex went to his pediatrician, who immediately sent the family to the Greenville Hospital University Medical Center for a biopsy. Within days, Alex was diagnosed with Oligodendroglioma, a brain tumor and he is now ten months into treatment.

Clement’s Kindness has been there by the family’s side to assist with utility bills and a School Intervention Program visit so Alex could keep up with his academics.

Kierra Martin

Anderson, South Carolina

With a sweet smile and beautiful brown eyes, you only wish that Kierra could spend every day doing just what she wants — playing basketball, reading Goosebumps mystery books and eating vanilla cupcakes. Unfortunately, the fourth grader has been treated at the BI-LO Charities Children's Cancer Center for Wilms Tumor, a type of kidney cancer found in children.

Clement's Kindness has worked with the family to support Kierra's fight, and they have been able to assist with power bills, loan payments and a week at Camp Courage. They also provided a School Intervention Program visit so Kierra could keep up with her studies at Flat Rock Elementary.

This past summer, Kierra was able to realize a dream come true when she traveled to Disney World with her church. The fearless little girl rode roller coasters and enjoyed everything the magical place offers. Kierra was even looking forward to going back to school at the end of the summer.

"I just want to thank everyone for the many ways that my family has been helped. We were blessed to have our power bill paid. At the holidays, we were given gift cards for Thanksgiving, and Clement's Kindness made sure that not only Kierra had a great Christmas but her brothers as well. We were blessed to go to Carowinds and Camp Courage thanks to Clement's Kindness. I also really appreciate the staff who took the time out to make school visits. You all really helped us through a very difficult time in our lives."

— Brenda Hanks
Kiera's Grandmother

Christopher “Luke” Newbill

Easley, South Carolina

Luke is an engaging, bright-eyed three-year old who loves everything that boys should — Clemson football, swimming and digging for worms. You can only imagine how devastated his mother was when he was diagnosed with Acute Lymphocytic Leukemia a year ago. For the first seven months, the single mother and her three children were at the BI-LO Charities Children’s Cancer Center inpatient unit more than home. The oldest son eventually had to stop playing sports because all their family’s time was spent at the hospital.

Luke’s mom, Christy, said Luke has done phenomenal in treatment and is a real trooper. One time in the middle of the night at the hospital, she heard Luke say “Jack now hush!” At first she didn’t know whom Luke was talking to, but he had named his I.V. pump and pole “Jack” since it was his constant companion. Now, Luke stands on Jack and “pole surfs” down the hallway. He even looks forward to going to the doctor and doesn’t complain about his treatment.

Fortunately, Clement’s Kindness was there to help this amazing family when they needed it the most with rent and car taxes.

> “We would have been in trouble if it weren’t for Clement’s Kindness. There are really no words to describe how difficult it is when your child is diagnosed with cancer because all of a sudden you have to put your family’s entire life on hold. You know you have to think about bills and daily life, but you just really want to take care of your child. Clement’s Kindness was there to assist with necessities such as heat and helped me keep some kind of normalcy so we could continue to do things as a family.”

The Children's Museum of the Upstate Hosts Clement's Kindness

If you're looking for an ideal setting to photograph children, it doesn't get any better than The Children's Museum of the Upstate. With 80,000 square feet of fun and learning spread out over three floors, people may be surprised to discover that it's the seventh largest children's museum in the country. The museum is specifically designed with interactive, hands-on exhibits to ignite a passion for learning, empower children to discover their full potential and expand their view of themselves and the world.

"The Children's Museum of the Upstate is an incredible resource for children and the community at large. It facilitates unstructured learning for children. While they're having fun making paper planes or a model car, they're also learning. We are trying to ignite in every child a spark to do more things and to learn more things," said Bill Hummers, Interim CEO of Children's Museum.

With 18 indoor, multidisciplinary exhibit galleries, a traveling exhibit hall, two outdoor interactive exhibit spaces and outdoor programming space, the museum serves children across the upstate through school visits, summer camps and the Michelin Youth Empowered through Service (YES!) initiative.

The Children's Museum
OF THE UPSTATE

"We are trying to ignite in every child a spark to do more things and to learn more things."

— Bill Hummers,
Interim CEO of Children's Museum

The museum is also designed to accommodate children with special needs, including a climbing apparatus in the middle of the building that allows wheelchair bound children to be involved. The staff has experience working with children who have special needs such as those battling cancer and other life threatening illnesses.

The staff was incredibly accommodating in June when they warmly welcomed a group of patients from the BI-LO Charities Children's Cancer Center and their families for a photo shoot. The children enjoyed hours of entertainment in the exhibits before they took a break for lunch, catered by the museum's Café. For all of these families, it was their first visit to the museum, and they left with a remarkable impression and unforgettable memories!

Are you interested in learning more, visiting, donating or volunteering at the seventh largest children's museum in the country? The museum is located at 300 College Street in downtown Greenville, or you can visit online at www.tcmupstate.org.

"My biggest surprise about the museum is how few people know about it. I would hope everyone in the Upstate would know about us, and I encourage everyone to visit the museum and experience everything it has to offer, both children and adults," added Bill Hummers.

Camp Courage — A Place Where Childhood is Given Back

Children and teens diagnosed with a blood disorder or cancer live life at a faster pace. They learn very quickly about the medical world, pain, sickness and even death.

Clement's Kindness and the BI-LO Charities Children's Cancer Center believe in the importance of giving these children a place where they can be treated like a kid. This special place for pediatric hematology and oncology patients is Camp Courage.

Camp Courage consists of two week-long camps designed to promote normal development, coping, peer support and recreation. Nearly 150 patients living in the Upstate were given the opportunity to attend camp last year.

The first week of camp is for children, ages 5 to 12, and incorporates many activities such as swimming, horseback riding, fishing and a climbing tower. The second week is planned for the teenage patients and includes activities such as archery, a zip line and a climbing tower. The teens participate in special art projects and exercise classes, and they also enjoy a dance and other specialty entertainment during the week.

Camp Courage is held at the Pleasant Ridge Camp and Retreat Center. In 2008, Clement's Kindness donated $500,000, over 5 years, to the BI-LO Charities Children's Cancer Center for the creation of The Clement's Kindness Cabins and Recreation Area at Camp Courage.

Clement's Kindness is proud to continually support Camp Courage and the opportunity to give the childhood back to the patient.

CAMP COURAGE

A Special Place For Courageous Kids

Carowinds — A Day of Family Fun

Clement's Kindness understands the significance of a family fun day, in the midst of doctor's appointments and treatments. Each year, a day trip to Carowinds provides the opportunity for Upstate families and children to enjoy time together at one of the region's most exciting attractions.

Last year, 35 families and a total of 154 people attended. These families have children who are suffering from cancer or have been recently treated for the disease, as well as families of children living with blood disorders, such as sickle cell anemia, hemophilia or aplastic anemia.

The day included a chartered bus ride to and from the theme park, complete with snacks, drinks and movies. At the park, the families were free to enjoy all the rides and attractions, including a catered picnic lunch. Everyone received a T-shirt from Clement's Kindness, as a souvenir for the day!

"Being able to participate in the Carowinds Trip was a bright point in our family's journey with cancer, especially around the one year anniversary of our son Camden's diagnosis with Acute Lymphoblastic Leukemia. When a child is diagnosed with cancer, the whole family is affected. Clement's Kindness understands that struggle and provides opportunities that include all of our children, which has been a huge blessing for our family."

— Jill Aho, mother of Camden Aho

Keeping the Spirit — A Visit with the Clemson Tigers

Each year, Clement's Kindness supports a trip to Clemson University for families of the BI-LO Charities Children's Cancer Center to attend a football scrimmage. Many of the patients are unable to participate in sports and other extracurricular activities due to their diagnosis, so being able to join the Clemson football team for a scrimmage provides inspiration and hope.

Last year, 18 families and a total of 71 people attended the event, including families of children with cancer and blood disorders.

A van transported the families to Clemson and took them to the West End Zone of the football stadium. Upon arrival, the patients and their siblings each received a Clemson football from Mr. Knickerbockers. The families ventured into the stands and watched the team scrimmage, cheering for their favorite players. Afterwards, they made their way to the field for a "meet and greet" with the players where they received autographs, photos and encouragement from the Tigers.

The families enjoyed dinner in downtown Clemson and headed home with a refreshed spirit after spending the day with some of their local heroes.

Spreading Kindness Throughout the Upstate

This year, SYNNEX Corporation hosts its second annual SYNNEX Share the Magic event, which benefits local children's charities in South Carolina. Clement's Kindness is fortunate to be selected as a beneficiary again in 2012.

The 2011 event raised $500,000, and the net proceeds were distributed to four charities — A Child's Haven, Clement's Kindness, Make-A-Wish Foundation of South Carolina and Pendleton Place Children's Shelter.

The event was a vision of Peter Larocque, president of U.S. Distribution for SYNNEX Corporation. As a father and business leader, Peter was passionate about creating an annual fundraising event in the Upstate to give back to children and families who suffer from life-threatening illnesses, abuse or neglect. A huge success in its inaugural year, SYNNEX Share the Magic continues to thrive, quickly becoming one of the most anticipated charity events the Upstate community. Clement's Kindness is extremely grateful to be part of such a remarkable effort!

Help us make a difference.

With your help and support, Clement's Kindness can continue to make a big difference. A donation is the perfect opportunity to touch the hearts of these incredible families and see your generosity at work in the Upstate.

Every donation goes directly to the patients and their families. Your donation may be used for gas money to take a child back and forth for chemotherapy over the course of several months. Or your donation could provide funds for a plane ticket to visit a specialist across the country. Your donation may be used to help with a mortgage payment because a mother had to leave her job to care for her child. As you've seen, the needs are many, but so are the opportunities to help:

$5,000 will provide funds for a School Intervention Program, which helps transition and prepare children to reenter a school environment.

$2,500 will sponsor a Family Support Day and Retreat.

$1,000 will pay for incidental expenses for a family to take a trip to Duke University for a bone marrow transport evaluation.

$500 will help a family with a mortgage payment or their utility bills for a month.

$250 can fund a monthly Teenager Support Meeting and pizza lunch.

$150 can be used for an initial medication evaluation for a patient and family member.

$50 will pay for a gas card for transportation to and from appointments or a grocery store gift card.
