A Little Kindness Can Make a Big Difference.

Remembering a Dear Friend of Clement — Frank Bradbury Halter

We dedicate this year's annual report to Frank Bradbury Halter. Frank was one of the very first people who agreed to become a member of the Clement's Kindness Advisory Board in 2001, even though he was already facing his own health issues at the time. Frank was a very close friend, neighbor and business associate, but more than that, he held a special place in our hearts as Clement's godfather.

We started Clement's Kindness because we wanted to honor the memory of our son by doing something to help other children in need. Frank loved Clement and he wanted to help us develop this charity that bore Clement's name. Over the years, Frank always made a conscientious effort to guide Clement, and both shared a good sense of humor.

Frank was a big man, a gentleman and a man who cared deeply about people — all people. He was an Eagle Scout who lived his life accordingly. True to the way he handled all of his responsibilities, Frank contributed a great deal of time, energy and resources to helping Clement's Kindness grow and develop into the charity it is today. Frank came to virtually every meeting because if he committed to do something he always did it to the best of his ability. Furthermore, his knowledge of real estate was an invaluable asset when we were working on Camp Courage.

We will always remember Frank and value the contributions he made and the guidance he gave. We will always miss him.

How a Little Kindness Can Help

The Haynsworth family realized just how fragile life is after the death of their son, Clement, at the age of 24. Because Clement loved children and had a kind and giving spirit, they chose to remember him by reaching out to children whose lives are the most fragile — those who are fighting the battle with cancer and other serious blood disorders.

With a growing Upstate population, more and more families are coming to the BI-LO Charities Children's Cancer Center for diagnosis and treatment. Usually one parent has to quit work or take an extended leave of absence to support the treatment of the child. The family's bills become a burden and there simply aren't enough community services or programs to provide for every need. This is when Clement's Kindness helps.

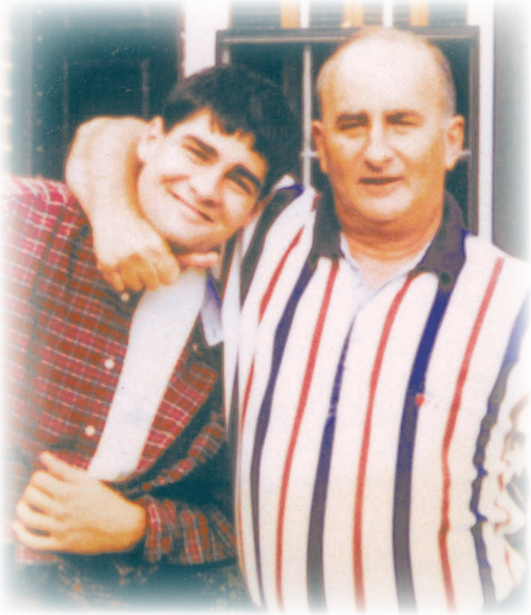

Clement's Kindness Fund for the Children was established at the Community Foundation of Greenville in 2002 to help address the medical, psychological, social, emotional and financial needs of Upstate families impacted by pediatric cancer and other serious blood disorders. The fund provides assistance to families facing the tremendous challenges surrounding a child's diagnosis, treatment and recovery. Clement's Kindness is used to help families in the following ways:

DISCRETIONARY FUNDS
For non-medical needs including mortgage payments, car payments, utility bills, car repairs, funeral expenses and more.

PSYCHOLOGICAL COUNSELING
For services that are integrated into the treatment plan and conveniently provided right at the BI-LO Charities Children's Cancer Center.

TRAVEL & LIVING EXPENSES
For families of children who must travel out of town to receive treatment.

OUT-OF-POCKET COSTS
For expenses such as gas, meals and phone calls.

Throughout this report, you will see examples of how a little kindness can make a big difference. From funds for support groups to assistance with everyday expenses and summer camp, Clement's Kindness touches so many lives in both big and small ways. With your support, Clement's Kindness can continue to make a difference in the lives of the patients and their incredible families.

Alayna Cobb

Salem, South Carolina

Alayna loves the arts and her favorite thing to do is draw and sketch cartoons. She's a big help with her two-year old cousin and loves being with her family and friends. Last fall, Alayna was diagnosed with Ewing's Sarcoma, and now receives chemotherapy three to five times a week as well as radiation at the BI-LO Charities Children's Cancer Center. Her treatment hasn't slowed her studies down as proved by being on the AB Honor Roll at Tamassee-Salem Middle School.

Although she heard many of the kids talking about going to Camp Courage this spring, Alayna was initially a little hesitant about attending. She later decided that she would see for herself what the hype was about. "Eventually, Alayna got really excited and giggly about attending Camp Courage," said Andrea Cobb, Alayna's mother. "When we arrived at the camp, Jamie, the camp director, and all the other counselors started calling out her name and greeted us. Alayna said, 'I feel like a movie star.'"

Clement's Kindness was able to assist the family with School Intervention Program visits, car repairs, a wig, a trip to Carowinds and Camp Courage.

"We'd like to thank Clement's Kindness for everything they've done for our family. Alayna had so much fun at Camp Courage and Carowinds. She especially loved meeting all the Peanuts characters at the theme park because Charlie Brown is her favorite cartoon. Clement's Kindness provides our family and others with all these fun activities that make our children feel really special. We wouldn't be able to do all of this without them. I'd like to thank all the donors because we so appreciate everything that Clement's Kindness does for our children."

— Andrea Cobb, Alayna's mother

Charlotte Rosenfeld

Greenville, South Carolina

When you first meet Charlotte and she flashes her big blue eyes and beautiful smile, you would never guess that she's in treatment for chronic idiopathic thrombocytopenic purpura (ITP). ITP is a disorder that can lead to easy or excessive bruising and bleeding that results from unusually low levels of platelets — the cells that help your blood clot.

Charlotte was first diagnosed in March of 2010, when she had a stomach virus and had to be seen at The Children's Hospital in St. Petersburg, Florida. After seeing a hematologist, she started treatment for ITP and is now participating in a clinical trial for a new oral drug. Her family eventually moved back to Greenville, where her father Ryan grew up.

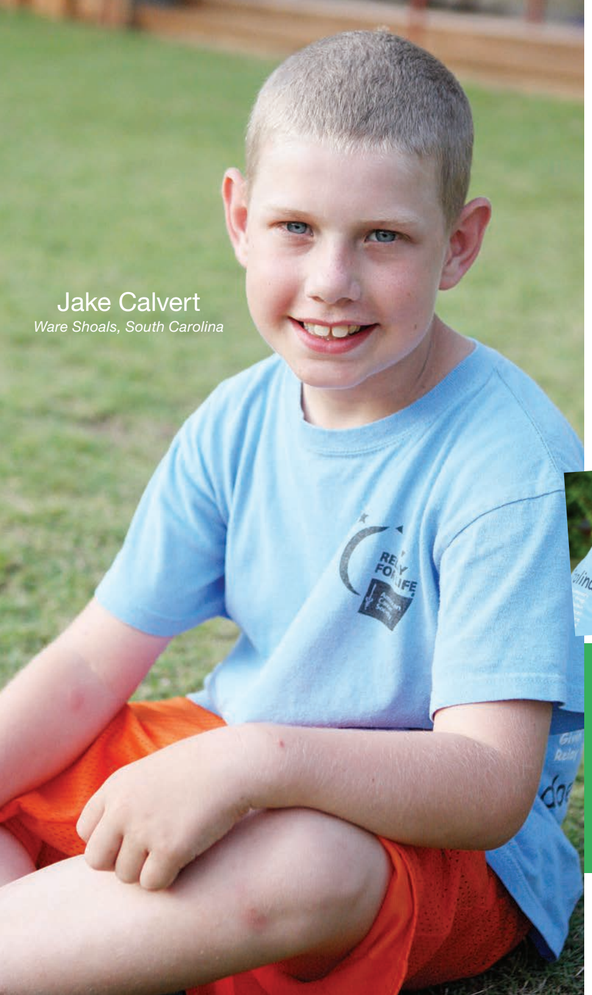

The energetic second grader spent her summer swimming for the Sugar Creek Sharks. She also enjoys playing soccer and basketball. In addition, Charlotte received "The Remarkable Reader" award this past year at school and is looking forward to attending Buena Vista Elementary this fall. She's a fantastic big sister and has made many friends through her experience at the BI-LO Charities Children's Cancer Center. Clement's Kindness has assisted her family with a trip to Carowinds and Camp Courage.

"The very first time we heard about Clement's Kindness was when we saw the commemorative plaque in the hospital. My husband, Ryan, went to Christ Church Episcopal School with Clement and has such great memories of him," said Jennifer Rosenfeld, Charlotte's mother.

"Clement was just one of those guys who was fun-loving and everywhere he went he made people laugh. Clement's Kindness has been so great throughout this whole ordeal, and we appreciate everything they've done for our family. At first, we didn't know about everything that they help support but then we found out that Clement's Kindness pays for Carowinds and Camp Courage. They offer a sick child who has been through a lot the chance to be special and enjoy activities that other kids are doing, which really allows us to be a family again. I can't say thank you enough."

— Ryan Rosenfeld, Charlotte's father

Jake Calvert

Ware Shoals, South Carolina

Jake loves Legos®, and he can build anything that has tires and can move. His older brother Will taught him how to ride a dirt bike and they like to ride trails in the country. There's not a lot that can slow this nine-year old down, so when he had a sore throat and a lot of swelling his parents took him to the doctor. The family was referred to Dr. Anderson at the BI-LO Charities Children's Cancer Center at Greenville Health System, and Jake was diagnosed with T cell acute lymphocytic leukemia.

"The initial two weeks were a whirlwind, and then we learned that we would be the parents of a kid with cancer," said Kelly Calvert, Jake's mom. "You have to quickly adjust. It really makes you appreciate life, and it forces you to live one day at a time. Jake's Grandmother is also going through treatment for cancer, and they have bonded over their ports."

Jake still loves anything that has wheels and can go fast, including motocross and race car video games. This past summer, he was able to go on a beach trip with his family. Clement's Kindness was able to assist his family with a trip to Carowinds, Camp Courage and a visit with the Clemson football team.

"I would like to give a huge thank you to everyone who donates to Clement's Kindness because they have really helped every member of our family. When your child is facing cancer, it's a tremendous hardship financially and it's a challenge to provide fun activities and social outings for all the family to enjoy together. Our entire family got to go to Carowinds, and we have never been before. It's so important to do things like this because it brings back some sense of normalcy for the children. The Clemson football outing was a big hit with our family as well. Thank you Clement's Kindness."

— Shannon Calvert, Jake's mom

Jaren Smith

Spartanburg, South Carolina

From the time he was two years old, Jaren Smith has been musically inclined and loves to sing and play the trumpet. Like most other 12 year-old boys, Jaren also loves football and basketball. Last August he was diagnosed with Lymphoma and is now in treatment at the BI-LO Charities Children's Cancer Center at Greenville Health System.

"Jaren has learned a lot from the journey," said Adelia, Jaren's mother. "He's become a lot closer to God, and he amazes me with his understanding of what he's going through. He has a very positive spirit and he's so appreciative of everyone who has helped him along the way. Jaren constantly thinks about his future, and there's so much he wants to accomplish. He loves Duke University and talks about going there one day."

This summer, Jaren was able to attend Camp Courage and he especially liked playing basketball with all of his doctors. Clement's Kindness has been able to assist his family with camp, a School Intervention Program visit and car repairs.

"I first learned about Clement's Kindness through Pam Broughton at the Cancer Center, and I can't thank them enough. Clement's Kindness has really helped Jaren connect with other kids who can relate to him and tell him what to expect in his treatment. Going to Camp Courage was definitely what he needed to do this summer, even though I missed him terribly. I know he needs to be around all the other kids and just have fun like every other child his age, and I'm very thankful for these opportunities."

— Adelia Smith, Jaren's mother

Christoper "Matthew" Gonzalez

Taylors, South Carolina

Matthew has always been known for his big heart and sweet nature, and he is especially close to his little sister, Evie. Last February, his family became even closer when Matthew was diagnosed with precursor B acute lymphocytic leukemia. As if that wasn't challenging enough, his father had to have open-heart surgery just three months later in May.

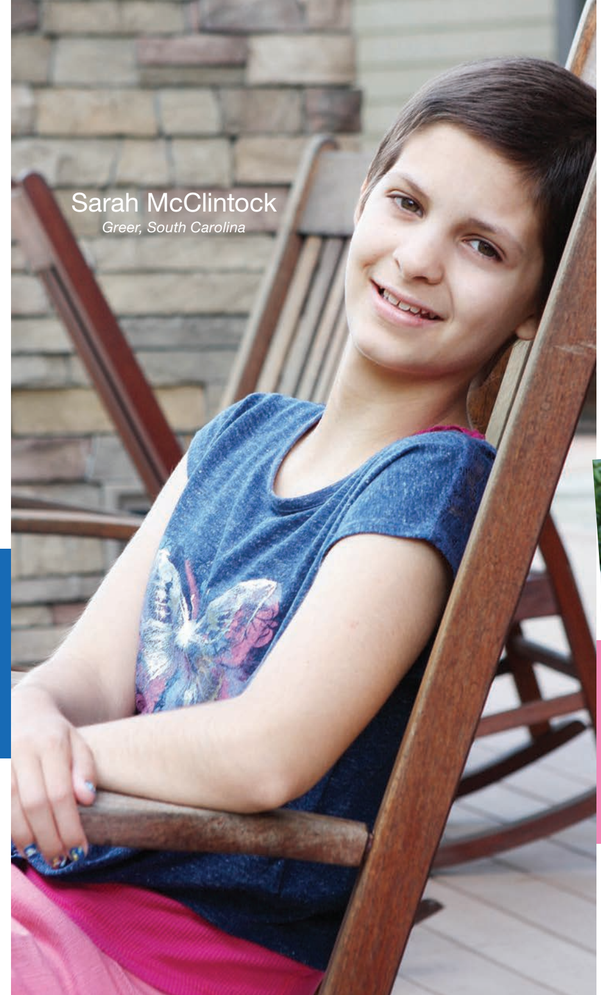

Fortunately, this spring both father and son were both feeling better, and they were even able to ride a roller coaster together on the Clement's Kindness trip to Carowinds. The sixth grader also attended Camp Courage this summer where he loved the zip line, playing basketball and swimming all day. When he's not playing sports, Matthew loves to read different book series such as Goosebumps and Diary of a Wimpy Kid.

Clement's Kindness has been able to assist his family with power bills, car taxes, a trip to Carowinds, School Intervention Program visit and Camp Courage.

"We have always been a close family but the past two years have humbled us and made us even closer. Last year was a very difficult year, and we are very thankful for the help that Clement's Kindness has given us with some bills. Even more importantly, they helped us with Camp Courage and Carowinds. It was the first time Matthew had ever been on a roller coaster and, I loved watching him ride with my husband. I really want to thank Clement's Kindness for all the events they do because they make it so special for the kids."

— Esther Valdes-Echeverria, Matthew's mother

Sarah McClintock

Greer, South Carolina

Sarah is one of those rare children who is both artistic and organized. She makes lists about everything, and her mother actually has to ask her to stop studying so she can take some time out and play with her brother and sister. Sarah loves projects and was determined to help her dog lose weight this past summer.

In the summer of 2011, Sarah complained of headaches and double vision. When her parents took her to the emergency room, the doctor ordered a CT scan and saw a tumor. Sarah was diagnosed with medulloblastoma and has since had surgery to remove the tumor. Today, Sarah has finished treatment, her hair is growing back thicker than ever and she has had her port taken out.

When this straight-A student isn't studying, Sarah loves to be outside gardening and horseback riding. She has been riding since age six and enjoys spending time with her horse, Aly. Last year, Make-A-Wish granted Sarah's wish for a fenced yard for her horse, which is now able to live on her family's land in Greer. Clement's Kindness was able to assist the family with car repairs, tires, a wig and trips to Carowinds and Camp Courage.

"When your child is diagnosed with cancer, it completely changes your perspective of every aspect in your life. Our lives will never be the same. You really appreciate your family more than ever before. Clement's Kindness has done so much for our family over the past couple of years. Besides help with bills, Clement's Kindness does so many fun and positive things — opportunities for the children and their families to do activities together that otherwise we may not be able to do. We are very blessed to have Clement's Kindness in our lives."

— Beth McClintock, Sarah's mother

CAMP COURAGE

A Special Place For Courageous Kids

Camp Courage consists of two one-week-long camps designed to promote normal development, coping, peer support and recreation. Nearly 150 patients living in the Upstate were given the opportunity to attend the 2013 summer camp. Camp Courage is held at the Pleasant Ridge Camp and Retreat Center. Campers enjoy exciting activities throughout the week including swimming, horseback riding, archery, fishing, zip lining, rock climbing and arts and crafts. The highly anticipated talent show, a camp highlight each year, concludes the fun-filled week.

Helping Make Camp Courage A Special Place for Courageous Kids

In 2008, Clement's Kindness pledged $500,000 over five years to the BI-LO Charities Children's Cancer Center for the creation of the Clement's Kindness Cabins and Recreation Area at Camp Courage. Clement's Kindness is committed to helping improve the quality of life for the children at the Cancer Center, and supporting Camp Courage is one way that the board is able to bring joy to these children and their families each year.

As the camp continues to grow in size and popularity, Clement's Kindness is thrilled to continue their partnership with Camp Courage by pledging $300,000 for the development of an on-site infirmary at camp.

"Clement's Kindness is honored to support the construction of the new infirmary at Camp Courage. Camp Courage is a very special place that gives pediatric hematology and oncology patients an opportunity to experience a true camp experience. With this new infirmary, many patients who previously may not have been healthy enough to attend a week of camp will be able to go."

— Ben Norwood, Board Chair, Clement's Kindness

Camp Courage Infirmary — Architect's Rendering

"We believe that every child treated at BI-LO Charities Children's Cancer Center deserves the opportunity to shine at Camp Courage. The new infirmary will allow us to treat the medical needs of our patients while they continue to enjoy everything that camp has to offer. On behalf of the Children's Cancer Center, we give a special thanks to Clement's Kindness for making this dream a reality!"

— Dr. Alan Anderson, Medical Director, BI-LO Charities Children's Cancer Center

Clement's Kindness Advisory Board members spend time with children at the Clement's Kindness Cabins and Recreation Area at Camp Courage.

Dr. Cary Stroud — Leaving a Footprint on Many Lives

If you've been involved with Clement's Kindness in any capacity, then you understand the tremendous dedication, care and expertise Dr. Cary E. Stroud, M.D. brings to the BI-LO Charities Children's Cancer Center.

Dr. Stroud and the children's cancer center seem inextricably linked, so it's suprising that almost 28 years ago he hesitated to establish the Pediatric Hematology/Oncology Center at the Greenville Children's Hospital.

"The biggest challenge of my career was making the decision to leave an established practice like the Christie Group," said Dr. Stroud. "It was a big decision to start something so completely new. We started with a small team, and now it's thrilling to look back at how the program took root and grew."

"One of the most enjoyable things about my career is when a former patient calls me to see if they can stop by the center to introduce me to their own children. That is the best feeling."
— Dr. Stroud

When Dr. Stroud first started his medical career in 1973 in general pediatric and pediatric hematology/oncology at the Christie Group, patients and their families would often have to travel to Charleston, Atlanta or Winston-Salem to have their children seen. Only after the initial visit could the doctor start a protocol and have the patient do a follow up in the Upstate.

To offer comparable treatment here at home, Dr. Stroud worked with the Greenville Health System and Greenville Children's Hospital to establish the Pediatric Hematology/Oncology Center in 1986. Today, the center has tripled in size, changed its name to the BI-LO Charities Children's Cancer Center and offers children and their families a complete range of improved treaments.

"One of the most important changes over the past two decades is the dramatic increase in the survival rate and the lower toxicity of treatments. One of the most enjoyable things about my career is when a former patient calls me to see if they can stop by the center to introduce me to their own children. That is the best feeling."

Another major change is supporting the child and their family both physically and emotionally.

"We have improved outcomes by treating the child and their family with a team approach. When a child is diagnosed with cancer or a blood disorder, the whole family is affected and you have to look at all their needs. Clement's Kindness has been instrumental in helping our staff meet these needs."

As Dr. Stroud transitions to a new position in the Greenville Health System, Clement's Kindness, as well as thousands of patients throughout the Upstate and their families, would like to take this opportunity to thank him for his tireless years of service to the Pediatric Hematology/Oncology Center. While setting up a pilot pediatric palliative care program at the Children's Hospital, we are very thankful that he will continue to serve on the Clement's Kindness Advisory Board.

Dr. Alan Anderson — Continuing to Care for Our Future

When you consider Dr. Alan Anderson's professional journey, it seems that he was destined to become the new Medical Director of the BI-LO Charities Children's Cancer Center. His father, Dr. Vernon Anderson, is a pediatrician and practiced with Dr. Cary E. Stroud at the Christie Pediatric Group, and his grandfather was a pediatrician as well.

In 1996, Anderson was working on his undergraduate degree at Wake Forest University and completed a summer internship with Dr. Stroud at the Pediatric Hematology/Oncology Center at the Greenville Children's Hospital.

"When I interned with Dr. Stroud, what really impressed me was seeing the strong relationship between the doctor, the patient and the family. I'm still amazed by the way Dr. Stroud interacts and communicates with families, especially when it comes to end of life management."

"It truly takes an entire community to provide the kind of care that children facing a life threatening illness require, and we are so happy to have solid support from Clement's Kindness."
— Dr. Anderson

After completing that fateful internship, Anderson graduated with a B.A. from Wake Forest University. He went on to receive his M.D. from the Medical University of South Carolina where he completed his residency in pediatrics.

Dr. Anderson joined the staff of the BI-LO Charities Children's Cancer Center in 2007 and embraces the same philosophy of care that he learned from Dr. Stroud during his internship.

"After diagnosis, our initial goal is to make sure the family has support from the entire team. These parents have their child's life planned out for them, from graduating high school to getting married, and then a diagnosis comes along and shatters everything. Our team wraps around the child and their family to provide support from every angle."

While the focus at the BI-LO Charities Children's Cancer Center is always on patient care, Dr. Anderson is excited about new trends in cancer treatment that target and treat the cancer cells without killing the normal cells. He is also looking forward to the near future when Greenville will have a free standing Cancer Institute, bringing cutting edge treatments to the Upstate. Other goals on the horizon include the expansion of Camp Courage and the creation of a lake to provide a waterfront and sports area for patients, as well as a bereavement camp for parents.

"We are very thankful for Clement's Kindness, whose impact is greater every year. From providing seed money for Camp Courage to ongoing support for the annual Carowinds trip, Clement's Kindness gives families the opportunity to enjoy time together, away from the hospital. It truly takes an entire community to provide the kind of care that children facing a life threatening illness require, and we are so happy to have solid support from Clement's Kindness."

We welcome Dr. Alan Anderson as the new Medical Director of the BI-LO Charities Children's Cancer Center and look forward to learning more about his goals and achievements in the years to come.

Sharing Magic and Kindness with Children in Need

Children's charities like Clement's Kindness thrive when local companies understand the difference their support can make in the lives of children in their community. Over the past three years, Peter Larocque, president of U.S. Distribution for SYNNEX Corporation and founder of SYNNEX Share the Magic, has proven his dedication to helping Upstate children in need.

A father of three and business leader in the Greenville community, Peter is passionate about this fundraising event that supports children and families who suffer from life-threatening illnesses, abuse or neglect. Clement's Kindness is grateful to be part of Peter's vision.

October 2013 marks the third annual SYNNEX Share the Magic event, benefitting A Child's Haven, Clement's Kindness, Pendleton Place and Make-A-Wish Foundation of South Carolina. The 2012 gala boasted a record number of attendees and more than $750,000 in funds raised, and in 2013 SYNNEX Share the Magic is projected to raise nearly $1 Million.

Clement's Kindness is able to provide services for children at the BI-LO Charities Children's Cancer Center because of support from companies like SYNNEX Corporation, and we are honored to be part of this incredible endeavor!

Help us make a difference.

With your help and support, Clement's Kindness can continue to make a big difference. A donation is the perfect opportunity to touch the hearts of these incredible families and see your generosity at work in the Upstate.

Every donation goes directly to the patients and their families. Your donation may be used for gas money to take a child back and forth for chemotherapy over the course of several months. Or your donation could provide funds for a plane ticket to visit a specialist across the country. Your donation may be used to help with a mortgage payment because a mother had to leave her job to care for her child. As you've seen, the needs are many, but so are the opportunities to help:

$5,000 will provide funds for a School Intervention Program, which helps transition and prepare children to reenter a school environment.

$2,500 will sponsor a Family Support Day and Retreat.

$1,000 will pay for incidental expenses for a family to take a trip to Duke University for a bone marrow transport evaluation.

$500 will help a family with a mortgage payment or their utility bills for a month.

$250 can fund a monthly Teenager Support Meeting and pizza lunch.

$150 can be used for an initial medication evaluation for a patient and family member.

$50 will pay for a gas card for transportation to and from appointments or a grocery store gift card.

If you are able to, please remember Clement's Kindness Fund for Children in your will. All contributions and donations are tax deductible. Please check with your tax advisor.
